DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The Information Disclosure Statement (IDS), filed on 5/25/2006, was received.

An initialized copy of the IDS is enclosed with this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

In regard to claims 1-8, applicant discloses a natural phenomenon since all light sources have spectral peaks and all objects have reflection peaks. Furthermore, applicant does not disclose any practical application of the natural phenomenon, which renders the claims as non-eligible subject matter.

In regard to claims 9-17, applicant discloses a method that is not implemented by a particular machine and also wherein the method does not transform any article, which renders the claims as non-eligible subject matter. Any system comprising 2 different colored light sources shining on a white object would exhibit the color of the light source and would therefore anticipate the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jack et al (US 3,989,775).

In regard to claim 1, Jack et al discloses In combination, a light source and a subject, wherein the light source has an illumination spectrum characterized by one of a distinctively stronger emission peak at a predetermined wavelength compared to other wavelengths, and a distinctly weaker emission gap at the predetermined wavelength compared to said other wavelengths; and, the subject has a reflection spectrum characterized by one of a distinctively stronger reflection peak at the predetermined wavelength compared to said other wavelengths, and a distinctly weaker reflection gap at the predetermined wavelength compared to said other wavelengths; wherein the subject has a distinct appearance when illuminated by the light source due to one of a match and a mismatch between the illumination spectrum and the reflection spectrum (column 12, lines 28-32).
